

A FORCE TO RECKON WITH.

Heat Force Ltd is a specialist heat pump sales and services company which brings together some of the best skills that the industry has to offer to provide you with the assurance that you know you are getting the best job at the best price.

With over 25 years as a qualified HVAC Engineer our Service and Operations Manager Ian Wickins is one of the best in the business. You can also expect to see Ian on the tools so you know your job is going to be done right the first time. Ian is backed up by Hamish Martin our Sales and Marketing Manager. Hamish has extensive experience in heat pump sales and systems design and will manage any new sales enquiry from start to finish.

While Heat Force is a new company don't let this fact stop you from choosing us for your all-important heat pump servicing, maintenance, and repair work. We are an Authorised Service Agent for all major brands of heat pumps sold in New Zealand and we have access to the full range of parts available for all the major brands. Our key staff are also well known and respected within the industry and we bring with us a wealth of knowledge & skills. Our size also allows us to be extremely responsive and dynamic.

DOMESTIC AND COMMERCIAL.

From sales and servicing of domestic heat pumps to servicing and maintenance of large critical equipment, we do it all. We cover the greater Canterbury area so if you have a job which is out of town chances are we can do it. We also provide an after-hours breakdown service for any emergency work.

SERVICE IS OUR STRENGTH.

Heat Force is a customer focussed company and our customers are our biggest asset. We know the importance of great customer/supplier relationships and we aim to provide you with the highest possible level of service. We are a dynamic technology focussed company. Our advanced cloud based systems mean we can access your critical information even if we are working in the field. These same systems also allow us to process and email your quotes instantly on site.

SUPERIOR KNOWLEDGE AND VERSATILITY.

We can service all manner of equipment such as server room process chillers, ventilation systems, hot water heat pumps, ducted heat pumps, VRF / VRV systems, and just about anything else that uses heat pump technology. If the parts are available then chances are we can also fix it!

Heat Force can also design a new HVAC system and source & install the equipment for you. If your current system is due to be retired or is costing you too much to maintain then talk to us today for a competitive quote. All major brands can be sourced at competitive rates.

"With some of the best skills available and at a great rate it makes sense to talk to us today for all your heat pump servicing and new sales enquiries. We look forward to talking with you."
